

GLOBAL HISTORY EVENTS

Spring Programme 2018

- Global seminar Who Was Ahmed Khan? Hospitality and Identification between Europe and India during the Age of Revolutions
Rahul Markovits (École Normale Supérieure, Paris)
Week 1. Wednesday 10 Jan 4.30 – 7pm, R0.3/4 Ramphal Building
Followed by a drinks reception to start off the new term. All welcome
- Global Humanities joint workshop with Shanghai Jiao Tong University
Week 2. 16-18 Jan, Radcliffe Conference Centre
- Short introductions by new members
Alice Leonard, Guido van Meersbergen, Shinobu Majima
Week 4. Wednesday 31 Jan, 1-2pm, H5.45 Humanities Building
- Where There Is No Incinerator: Histories of Biomedical Disposability and Reuse on the African Continent (Joint seminar with CHM)
Marissa Mika (University College London)
Week 5. Tuesday 6 Feb, 4-6pm, R0.14 Ramphal Building
- Global Reading Group
Jhahnvi Phalkey and Tong Lam, 'Science of Giants: China and India in the Twentieth Century', The British Journal of the History of Science 1 (2016); and Fa-Ti Fan and John Mathew, 'Negotiating natural history in transitional China and British India', BJHS 1 (2016)
Week 5. Wednesday 7 February, 1-2pm, H0.60 Humanities Building
- Global seminar Indian Textiles in West Africa, 1750-1850: A South-South Economic History
Kazuo Kobayashi (University of Tokyo)
Week 7. Wednesday 21 Feb, 1-2pm, H5.45 Humanities Building
- Global Reading Group
Stefan Berger and Holger Nehring (eds.), The History of Social Movements in Global Perspective (London: Palgrave Macmillan, 2017) - 'Introduction: Towards a Global History of Social Movements', and Ch. 20: 'Fascism as a Social Movement in a Transnational Context'
Week 8. Wednesday 28 Feb, 1-2pm, H5.45 Humanities Building
- Shadow Networks: Labour, Capital and Pearling in the Indian Ocean (Joint seminar with EMECC)
Pedro Machado (Indiana University)
Week 8. Thursday 1 Mar, 5-7pm, H3.03 Humanities Building