

Hispanic Studies proudly presents
Latin America @ Warwick 2014

Tuesday, 25 November

Carmen Boullosa

Carmen Boullosa is an internationally acclaimed Mexican writer who lives in New York. She has won the Xavier Villaurrutia prize in Mexico and Spain's Café Gijón Prize. Three of her books are available in English translation—They're Cows, We're Pigs (1991), Leaving Tabasco (2002), and Cleopatra Dismounts (2003). Boullosa co-hosts Nueva York, an Emmy Award-winning television series in the US. She will deliver a special lecture to mark the visit of Edouard Manet's The Execution of The Emperor Maximilian to the Mead Gallery.

Special lecture to mark the visit of Edouard Manet's

The Execution of The Emperor Maximilian at the Mead Gallery

Tuesday, 25 November, 6 pm

Mead Gallery, Warwick Arts Centre

All Welcome

THE UNIVERSITY OF WARWICK

 Santander
UNIVERSITIES