

Open Space Learning: The State of Play

This session will identify the key characteristics of the Open Space Learning project that is developing through CAPITAL and the RE-Invention Centre at Warwick and suggest some of its uses across a broad range of disciplines and context.

In particular the session will identify precedents for OSL in the wider field of pedagogy and educational practice. The session will include some elements of practical illustration.