

The 10th Annual Conference

History in Higher Education

The Subject Centre for History, Classics and Archaeology is pleased to invite you to attend its annual 'History in Higher Education' conference. Our aim is to provide a forum for the development of teaching and learning in higher education — reviewing current practices, discussing disciplinary research and innovations, and examining issues of strategic importance.

The programme includes keynote, plenary sessions, and discussion sessions. Day one of the conference is devoted to postgraduate issues and a number of bursaries are available. Participants are welcome to attend for one, two or three days on a residential or non-residential basis.

Lady Margaret Hall, University of Oxford
Wednesday, 2nd April — Friday, 4th April 2008
