PZ Cussons sponsored a number of projects for the Warwick MBA for the first time in 2009. One of the projects focussed on reducing supply chain working capital. The student identified a number of significant opportunities that are now being implemented. The project was a valuable piece of investigation and analysis and a great opportunity for both the student and PZ Cussons to get to know each other.

The project recruitment process is a great way to assess the quality of talent graduating through the Warwick Business School and the recruitment team is helpful, responsive and customer focused – making the recruitment process intuitive and straight forward.
