Warwick and Coventry Primary Care Research
Supporting local Primary & Community Health Care Practitioners

Doing Research Interviews Together

A workshop for healthcare practitioners who want:

- interview techniques they can use at work as well as in a research environment
- a supportive learning environment away from their usual place of work
- tips from researchers with practitioner experience
- to get involved in “real” research study of local relevance and interest
- to work with an experienced team of primary care researchers
- the opportunity of working on a sessional basis as part of a research nurse bank
- to combine a healthcare career with research opportunities

Workshop Fee: Normally £75, but free to primary care/community care practitioners working in the West Midlands South.

Refreshments and buffet lunch provided..

Programme Highlights

Key speakers:

- Practical role play sessions with the guidance of experienced researchers
- Research principles underpinning the practical sessions
- Health and Safety issues that may be encountered when doing “in the field” research
- Certificate of attendance
- Post Workshop experience - attachment to a “real” research study - interviewing participants under the guidance of the Chief Investigator of an active project.
- Small group - maximum of 12
- FREE of charge to primary care practitioners

All we ask in return is that delegate sign up to interviewing 3 participants on an appropriate study within in the next six months.
