

WARWICK SPORT PRIVACY NOTICE (GDPR)

INTRODUCTION

Our participating students, clubs, customers and partners are extremely important to us, and this notice explains how (and for what reason) Warwick Sport and the wider University of Warwick collects, stores, manages and generally makes use of your personal data- that is any information that relates to you.

In this notice personal data will be referred to simply as 'information'.

We aim to be clear when we collect your information as to what we intend to do with it and only use it in a way you would reasonably expect.

WHO WE ARE AND WHAT WE DO

Warwick Sport is part of the University of Warwick and supports the university's objectives through facilitating participation in activity and sport that builds healthy communities. We do this by offering a range of services and events and providing facilities for the provision of sport and active participation. We also provide advice and work in partnership with other key departments such as wellbeing support services. We work alongside Warwick SU to ensure student sport clubs have what they need to participate in their chosen sport during their time at University and we partner with national sporting bodies and associations to promote key sporting activities.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

References to "WS", "University", "we", "our" and "us" refers to Warwick Sport and UOW.

References to "you" and "your" refers to students, clubs, customers, alumni, partners, donors and other stakeholders of Warwick Sport and UOW.

The General Data Protection Regulation will be referred to as "GDPR".

"Personal data" is any information that relates to you. It can also include expressions of opinions about you.

"Special personal data" is that of a more sensitive nature such as that relating to racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, or trade union membership. It also includes any processing of genetic or biometric information if the purpose is to uniquely identify an individual. It also includes information concerning [physical or mental] health or information concerning an individual's sex life or sexual orientation.

A "data subject" is the person who is the subject of the data i.e. it is about them.

- Information about your physical and mental health -this may include information about the provision of health care services to you which reveal information about your health status

PURPOSES OF OUR PROCESSING AND OUR LEGAL BASIS

PURPOSES

We process your information to enable us to market our services or those of third parties to you; to provide you with quotations; to register you as a user of our facilities; to record your use of our facilities; to manage any enquiry you make, to discuss, process and deliver your participation activity; to manage your membership experience with us and to process your payments; to correspond with you generally; to track your health and ensure your safety and well-being; to meet our safeguarding responsibilities; to provide suitable treatment and care; to follow up after classes, courses and events to gather feedback and new enquiries; to analyse our membership and participation information in order to better understand how to provide goods and services; to discuss the end of your membership with us, communicating in relation to a partnership activity or to gather feedback.

THE LAW

We lawfully process your 'ordinary' information in one or more of the following ways:

- (a) you have given us consent [for example marketing to you by us or selected third parties] to process your information for one or more specific purposes;
- (b) processing your information is necessary for the performance of a contract you are a party to [your membership with us] or in order to take steps at your request [quotations] prior to entering into a contract;
- (c) processing your information is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation [health and safety, safeguarding etc.] to which the University is subject;
- (d) processing is necessary in order to protect your vital interests [where you suffer a serious accident necessitating the involvement of the emergency services];
- (e) processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest [the provision of sporting facilities] or in the exercise of official authority vested in the university;
- (f) processing is necessary for the purposes of the university's legitimate interests [operation of CCTV in the wider public interest and measures necessary to ensure we operate effectively and efficiently] or those of a third party but only where our interests override those of the individual concerned

We lawfully process your special data either where we have your explicit consent; to protect your vital interests - where you are incapable of giving consent; in connection with legal claims; for reasons of substantial public interest or for the purposes of preventative medicine or the provision of health treatment.

CONSENT/ CONTRACT

If we rely upon your consent as the legal ground to process your information you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.

You must provide some information to us in order for us to enrol you as a member or user of our facilities. If you do not provide the information necessary to do this then we will not be able to enrol you.
